

Take a moment to think about your future!

This summer, why not have a great job with some of the best in Rhode Island?

The Rhode Island Department of Transportation will be employing a select number of college students to perform civil engineering, planning, environmental, and computer system support work on State Transportation projects this summer.

This program will allow college students a unique opportunity to work alongside transportation professionals in such areas as Highway and Bridge Design, Construction, Environmental Protection, Historic Preservation, Landscaping, Information Systems, Traffic Operations, Materials, Road & Bridge Maintenance and Intermodal Planning.

Your appointment will begin in mid-May and continue to early September. Salary is $9 - $13 hourly depending on your academic standing and experience. Assignments are available in Providence and Statewide.

To apply, please send a letter of interest detailing your education and work experience, an official copy of your latest college academic transcript and a statement of your career plans to:
